Assessing Official Comments:

QUALITY: Vire was very eager and proactive in the performance of all contract requirements. As the IRS manager for this project, Vire never missed a contract requirement to my knowledge, and often did more than was expected. Vire put together a team of technical experts whom have proven invaluable to the project's success. Vire has shown strong technical prowess, and have always remained focused on quality while implementing solutions for the ACA projects we supported. Vire always aligns their priorities with those of the IRS, which has resulted in great value and quality for the IRS from their services.

SCHEDULE: Vire planned extremely well, and never missed deadlines. Vire completed all milestones on schedule, which included all work products and deliverables. The Vire team was very mindful of the rigors of the ACA Integrated Master Schedule, and they enabled all ACA Projects to meet their deadlines in accordance with higher level ACA Program goals. Vire was able to start up contract performance extremely quickly, and they had no difficulty integrating the team into a very complicated ACA operating environment, with a very complex schedule. The team was effective from start to finish throughout the period of performance (2/29/2012 – 5/31/2014).

COST CONTROL: Vire price/cost proposals were very accurate, and they effectively handled the workload within the allocated budget, even when there was a significant increase in support requirements. Vire completed all tasks on time, within budget and controlled all costs very well throughout the duration of the contract.

MANAGEMENT: The Vire Project Manager was great. Vire's Project Management Plans, Project Schedules, and work efforts were very detailed, and very closely monitored by the Vire PM. The management structure they utilized provided me with a singular point of contact (the PM), to make communication and oversight very easy. Vire also made all project personnel easily accessible if needed, but very little direct supervision was required. The PM and Vire management controlled the team and work being performed at all times.

SMALL BUSINESS SUBCONTRACTING: Vire performed extremely well as a small business, and their quality of performance was similar to what I would expect from a large business consulting firm. The key personnel, management structure and ability to deliver was top caliber, regardless of the fact that Vire is a small business.

REGULATORY COMPLIANCE: The project manager and corporate management from Vire were always very effective and supportive of me and my IRS colleagues. Vire was always attentive to our needs, and coordinated with all IRS personnel very professionally. Vire was always solution focused, and developed strong working relationships with the stakeholders and end-users they supported. Vire was easy to work with from start to finish.

OTHER AREAS: I have had nothing but the most positive experience working with Vire on this project, and the ACA Program and ECPV organization have both benefitted greatly from the support the Vire team provides to the IRS. We always felt that this project was the most important project which they supported. Vire experts have implemented effective tools, and promoted best practices for usage throughout the IRS, and we have received numerous compliments from other teams about the quality of support Vire provides.

We feel that the project was a great success, and we would like to specifically mention our appreciation for the phenomenal support of Contracting Officer (Ms. Bianca Betancourt) and the Contracting Officer's Representative (Ms. Kristal Williams). They were both extremely helpful in every way, and couldn't have been easier to work with. The Program Office Managers Byron Darden and Charles Anderson were also amazing to work with, and we could not have done our jobs so well without their thoughtful guidance and support. We appreciate the feedback we have received here, and hope to continue making a positive impact at the IRS in other areas in the future.
